Grand plans: Amillarah Private Islands is the company behind the getaways

Going green: The islands will be eco-friendly and self-sustaining

Amillarah Private Islands are the creative force behind the initiative, which will offer islands in all shapes and sizes.

Their renderings show properties in the likes of the Maldives, Miami and Dubai, where Amillarah islands are already planned.

Custom-made: Designs feature swimming pools, boat docks and greenery

Amillarah is overseen by developers Dutch Docklands, who have teamed up with Christie's International Real Estate for the project.

Dan Conn, CEO of Christie's International Real Estate, said: "The opportunity to literally develop a private island on a body of water is a testament to Dutch Dockland's skills in this arena.

Take your pick: Amillarah will offer islands in all shapes and sizes

"Buyers are able to customise the size, shape and style of their residence, within the broadest range of locations, beginning with this first opportunity in the Maldives."

The designs were created by famed Dutch architect Koen Olthuis, who helped found Dutch Docklands, in 2005.
